Letter from the chairperson

Another busy year for Linkes.

This year we worked with and alongside the local community to deliver a vibrant programme of activities for the whole community, working with more than 1500 people. Our tagline, which was developed at a staff, volunteer and board Development Day, is All people, One Community. I think this really sums up our organisation and what we are trying to achieve. Being a small community led organisation means that we can identify changing needs, respond quickly to those needs and adapt our activities and our approach when needed, which I see as one of our key strengths.

This year, as well as our community and youth work, access to nutritious healthy food on the estate was identified as a key issue and we began delivering our Fareshare project in September 2019, distributing surplus food from supermarkets to people within the community. Sadly, we have seen the number of people approaching us for foodbank referrals continue to rise and we hope to continue to develop our food related activities in the coming year.

It's also impossible to speak about 2020 without mentioning the impact of Covid 19. On 20th March 2020, we took the difficult decision to shut both Linkes venues and all staff moved to home working. Since Linkes was established, our community hubs have never been shut for more than a few weeks at a time and even then only for essential repairs, so this has had a devastating impact on us as an organisation and on the local community. Our staff immediately began repurposing our services to ensure that we could continue to support people during lockdown and we had initial conversations with partner organisations about setting up a fresh meals delivery project for older people and those with health issues who were self-isolating. By the end of March, we had already started delivering a small number of meals. We'll provide further information about how this project developed in next year's annual report but I would like to take this opportunity to say how immensely proud I am of our Covid response work, none of which could have happened without the hard work and dedication of our staff team, our board and our volunteers.

We're living within extremely challenging times. Community projects, like Linkes, are more important than ever, to address social isolation and to provide opportunities for communities to learn, live and laugh together. My thanks go to the volunteers, sessional workers, staff, partners, and funders, for enabling us to make a real difference.

On behalf of the board,
Robert Smith
